SATSANG SERIES

Vivekachoodamani

Text by Adi Sankaracharya

Every Sunday Starting June 5, 2016

7:30 - 8:30 AM

Vedanta is truly the "Science of Life". Adi Sankaracharya, the great interpreter of Vedanta, not only gave his commentaries on the Upanishads, the Brahma Sutras and the Bhagavad Geeta, but also many primary texts which introduce the seeker into joys of Vedanta. One of the greatest texts he has written as an introduction to Vedanta, is the Vivekachoodamani. It means "The Crest-Jewel of Discrimination".

It is the cream of the Upanishads and the Bhagavad Geeta. It re-educates the student, in a systematic way, to provide him with a new vision of life. The goal and the Path are both exhaustively dealt with, in this elaborate treatment of Vedanta, by Adi Sankaracharya. To one, who is making a deep study of Vivekachoodamani, no other help is needed for leading him to a spiritual life, guiding to his self improvement and attaining goal of life.
